About Donna

I spent about 45 years running restaurants and motels, feeding people and making them feel at home. With about 35 years in Louisiana and 34 in Arkansas behind me, and a business degree from Southern Arkansas University, Southern cooking and Southern hospitality run through everything I do.

Now that I'm retired, I'm putting what I've learned into things I love making: simple Southern recipes, stories for children, and coloring pages for grown-ups.

I hope they bring a little comfort to your table and a little fun to your free time.
